

Pedaling for the PKU Scholarship Fund!

2009

Cris Trahms, Program Director of the University of Washington’s PKU Clinic (recently renamed to the Cristine M. Trahms Program for Phenylketonuria), will be riding her bike over hill and dale through scenic Western Washington.

Cris will be riding to raise money for the PKU Action Group Scholarship Fund. Contributions to the fund provide scholarships for Washington state high school graduating seniors who have PKU and who have been accepted to a college or training program. These kids have worked hard to be ‘unaffected’ by the potential debilitating effects of PKU. Because of their hard work and attention to their therapy, these students are intellectually very capable. We are eager to support them in their future educational endeavors.

Interested in knowing more about PKU? Check out the PKU Action Group website at pkupag.org and the UW PKU Clinic website at depts.washington.edu/pku

Here’s how you can help support the scholarship fund. Fill out the form below and give it to Vicki (along with your contribution), or mail it in the envelope provided. Then, sit back and let Cris do the pedaling!
