

University of Washington
PKU Clinic
Science Night

Friday, October 3, 2003
6:00 pm–9:00 pm

Join us for the fifth Eastern/Western Washington PKU Science Night
A live video downlink will connect locations in Spokane and Seattle

Location: in Seattle, Washington State Newborn Screening, State Public Health Lab
1610 N.E. 150th St. in the Auditorium (map attached)

in Spokane, Deaconess Medical Center-Health & Education Building
910 W. 5th Ave. in Room 268 (map attached)

Agenda: 6:00-7:00 pm Sign in, social time, low protein product samples and *optional laboratory tour

7:00-9:00 pm Program and video downlink

Treating PKU:
A Profile of Adults who were identified by early Newborn Screening

Belle Chenault, PhD and Cristine Trahms, MS, RD

Newborn Screening:
Current activities and the next step for Washington

Sheila Neier, MS, Coordinator, WA. State Newborn Screening Program

PKU Action Group : Success in 2003 and Plans for 2004

Doug Peterson, PKU Action Group Chair

Tours of the Newborn Screening Laboratory will be available at the Seattle location between 6-7pm*

There will be information and samples from various low protein food vendors and a door prize drawing in both locations!

(You must be present to win)

To RSVP or for more information, call (206)685-3015 or toll free within Washington 1-877-685-3015. Please RSVP by September 26th, 2003.

Sponsored in part by the PKU Action Group